Descripción

In the heart of Guachipelín, Escazú, a residential development is born with the purpose of preserving a centuries-old jungle of fig trees, cedars, oaks, and guachipelines. Here, nature is not sacrificed for architecture; instead, they coexist in the same ecosystem. From its terrace, you can contemplate the mountains of Escazú, Alajuela, Heredia, and the city of San José, boasting one of the most privileged views of the Central Valley.

The project has been conceived by a team of internationally renowned architects, distinguished with the highest accolades in their field. It consists of a 34-story tower that combines exclusive residences with high-profile offices and curated businesses, designed for those seeking status, design, and a genuine connection with their surroundings.

Residence A1 is available starting at $488,000 and includes:

- 2 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms
- 123.43 m² of construction
- East-facing view
- Spacious integrated spaces and a generous terrace that extends the experience to the outdoors
- High-quality finishes and natural light in all areas

1 parking space included (additional parking available at a cost of $25,000)

If your family needs more space, the project also offers 3-bedroom units, ideal for those seeking more room without sacrificing the same view and design.
Among the common areas and the project concept, you will find:

Gardens and trails integrated into the preserved original jungle
Pedestrian bridges over the natural reserve and water mirrors
Central square with outdoor green amphitheater
Curated commercial and office spaces within the same development
